Archiving Policies

If you wish to make a copy of a policy before making changes to it, you can place a copy in the Archive. This section describes how to add policies from the Working Manual into the Archive. See pages 44-45 for information on viewing policies in the Archive and restoring policies from the Archive back into the Working Manual.

A policy can be archived one of two ways: At the individual policy level, which allows you archive a single policy, or using the Multi-Archive Utility, which allows you to archive multiple polices at once.

Archive a Single Policy at Individual Policy Level

- 1. Click on the "Working Manual" tab at the top left of the screen to make sure you are in the Working Manual.
- 2. Using the plus signs to the left of each folder, expand the "MANUAL ADMINISTRATION" and the "EDIT SECTIONS OF WORKING MANUAL" folders.
- 3. Open the policy you wish to archive.
- 4. Click the Archive button below the policy content area and a 'point in time' copy of this policy will be added the Archive area.

5. Once in the Archive, the archived version of the policy can be viewed, printed or restored back to the Working Manual.

Archive Tip #1: Use the archive to save copies of policies that you have customized and are using in your organization, but are about to change. This will simply retain a copy of what the policy was before you made the change. Model Policies that have not been customized do not need to be archived. Any model policy can be accessed at any time from the Master Manual. This will help keep your Archive area easier to maintain.

Archive Tip #2: Many organizations want to archive a yearly (or semi-annual) copy of all policies for historical purposes. Often the policies have not changed, but a full point in time copy of all polices is required. If you are archiving the entire manual for historical purposes, it is recommended that you Publish the manual and retain the Published Manual as the historical archive. This will help keep your Archive area easier to maintain. Keep in mind that a published manual version of a policy cannot be restored back to the Working Manual, but often the historical archive is not meant for that purpose.

Un-Archiving a Policy

Tip: When un-archiving, be sure to first remove the unwanted policy version from your Working Manual (see page 32), then un-archive the proper version of the policy. Un-archiving a policy will not overwrite the policy in the Working Manual. If you do not remove the unwanted policy first, you will then have two policies (the correct and the incorrect) in your Working Manual.
